

9-29 and June 24-July 20, 1892. The new forms obtained by Mr. Streater had been already described. The list numbers 26 species, of which about one third are confined to this group of islands. The annotations are mainly technical.

Respecting Sturnella magna neglecta, which Mr. Oberholser would recognize "as a full species," he says: "It seems remarkable that any one who has ever heard the striking vocal performances of the western meadowlark should consider it a subspecies of the eastern bird."

If Mr. Oberholser should hear the Meadowlarks sing in certain parts of the Mississippi Valley, as eastern Iowa, Illinois, western Missouri, etc., or even in Florida, he would doubtless place less stress upon the value of the song character of the Western Meadowlark. — J. A. A.

Van Denburg's Notes on Birds of Santa Clara County, California.¹ — Mr. Van Denburg's observations were made mainly at two points in the western range of mountains that traverses Santa Clara County, namely, Los Gatos and Palo Alto, and are "based upon more or less casual observations extending over a period of fourteen years." The list relates only to the land birds, and for these "makes no pretence to completeness in any way." The list is nevertheless an important contribution to Californian ornithology, including 110 species with somewhat extended and very interesting field notes on many of them. — J. A. A.

Bonhote's List of the Birds of New Providence, Bahamas.² — The present paper is based on observations made by Mr. Bonhote during a year's residence on the island, and includes welcome notes on the manner of occurrence of the 59 species taken by him. A few others are referred to as seen but not positively identified. Four are recorded for the first time from the island of New Providence, namely, Prothonotaria citrea, Oporornis agilis, Piranga rubra (also mentioned in the introductory remarks as "Pyrranga aestiva"), and Totanus solitarius. — J. A. A.

Richmond on New Species of Birds. — Dr. Richmond has described a new species of Dendroornis from Alta Mira, Tamaulipas, Mexico, as D. striatigularis,³ and three new birds from the Province of Trong, Lower Siam, collected by Dr. W. L. Abbott⁴. These are Ethopyga anomala, Criniger sordidus, and Turdinulus granti. — J. A. A.
